

Naming Results

Human rights education network

Prepared for:

The Steering Committee / Nancy Flowers

Human Rights Education Associates / Felisa Tibbitts

December 6, 2011

Introduction

In this package of names, I've focused on the steering committee's main naming objectives:

- Names that take a stand, inspire, call to action.
- Cool enough to appeal to youth and college students;
Serious enough not to alienate big agencies and funding sources.
- Muscle and grassroots, without feeling too radical.
- Evoke the uniting of disparate groups, connecting local grassroots advocates with larger organizations possessing global reach and muscle.

Included are the results of domain name searches on my Top Picks.
My terminology:

Avail = the domain name is available for registration right now.

Unused = the domain name is already registered, but is not being used — the site is non-existent or simply “parked” — meaning the domain name might be available for purchase from the owner.

Conflict = another organization or website might be too close to this name (but not enough for me to rule the name out completely).

My Top Picks

TEACH HOPE

A simple, bracing, inspiring call to action. Optimistic. Takes a stand, but not preachy.

Avail: teachhope.net, teachhope.us
Unused: teachhope.org. Conflict: teachinghope.org

THREAD

THE HUMAN RIGHTS EDUCATION ADVOCATES

Unifying many groups with one purpose. The common thread that binds us all in a human tapestry. Good logo possibilities.

Avail: threadnet.org, threadnetwork.org
Unused: thread.org, thread.com

TEACH FOR HUMANITY

A soaring, inspiring call to action: Teach human decency for the good of humanity. Shortens nicely to T4H. Good T-shirt logo.

Avail: teachforhumanity.com, tforh.org
Unused: teachforhumanity.org, t4h.org

RAISING HANDS

Kids raising hands in class. The world's citizens raising their hands to be counted. Raising our hands in solidarity with them.

Avail: raisinghands.us
Unused: raisinghands.org, .com, .net

COHERE

COALITION ON HUMAN RIGHTS EDUCATION

To unite, form a whole. CO- has a nice feel of collaboration, -HERE a rooted strength.

Avail: coherecoalition.org, coherenet.org, coherenetwork.org. Unused: cohere.com, .net, .us

1210

From December 10, Human Rights Day. Opens an invitation to the story of the UDHR. Cool, college-y. Good on a T-shirt.

PROJECT 1210

Avail: 1210coalition.org, 1210network.org, the1210.org, project1210.org, 1210project.org
Unused: 1210.org, .com, .net, .us

T E A C H T H E D R E A M

An uplifting, forceful call to action. Evokes Martin Luther King's famous speech.

Avail: teachthedream.org, .net, .us
Conflict: teachthedream.com

RIGHTS & REASONS

Strong. Elegant. Puts RIGHTS front and center. REASONS evokes education.

Avail: rightsandreasons.org, .net, .us
Unused: rightsandreasons.com

JOINING VOICES

Disparate groups coming together. Connecting local grassroots activists with big global orgs. Joining our voices with the worldwide human rights struggle.

Avail: joiningvoices.org, .com, .net, .us

H U M A N LIGHTS

A play off "human rights". The light, potential, and worthiness in each of us. Lights going on in students' heads. 7 billion humans shining across the globe.

Avail: humanlights.org, .net, .us

RIGHTS UNITED

Strong. Purposeful. Uniting many groups, uniting with the rights struggle. Evokes “United States”, but not overpatriotic. Cool wordplay – R U with us? Who R U?

Avail: rightsunited.org, .com, .net, .us

RIGHTS ALIVE!

Buoyant, vibrant. Implies a living struggle – a pressing, up-to-the-minute issue. Keep hope alive. Keep knowledge alive. Keep human rights education alive.

Avail: rightsalive.org, .com, .net, .us

TEACHING FREEDOM

Education becomes the path to freedom around the world. “Freedom” has an American feel to it.

Avail: teachingfreedom.net, .us

Unused: .org. Conflict: teachingfreedom.com
